Projects

Bibo: Bookkeeping & Analytics Live Demo 2023

FinTech, RetailTech, Mobile Payments, Retail Optimization

I played a pivotal role in designing an innovative mobile and web app aimed at revolutionizing the point-of-sale experience. Through our user-centric approach and elegant interfaces, we simplified transactions and enhanced retail operations. Our solution streamlined point-of-sale interactions, leading to increased operational efficiency and customer satisfaction. The intuitive design has profoundly impacted how businesses handle transactions, setting new standards in the retail sector.

Repisodic Live Demo 2023

Healthcare Technology, Web App Redesign, UX Optimization

I led the redesign of a patient-centric platform, securing a 2.25M USD investment according to Crunchbase. Through meticulous design, we transformed the post-acute care selection process, ensuring an intuitive and streamlined experience for users. The complete overhaul of the web app interface led to a significant increase in user engagement, setting new standards in healthcare technology. Redesigned web app interface resulted in higher user satisfaction and engagement, reflecting in a 30% boost in user interactions.

FreelanceNow Live Demo 2023

Job Marketplace, Digital Job Offers, Recruitment Technology

I took charge as the Product Designer in developing a groundbreaking mobile app facilitating seamless connections between recruiters and applicants. This innovative platform empowers recruiters to post job details, enabling the system to match suitable profiles efficiently. Job offers are extended directly through the app, providing applicants with unique employment opportunities. Within a remarkably short span, we successfully completed the MVP in just two weeks, emphasizing rapid development without compromising quality. The app is currently in its testing phase, promising a user-friendly experience for both recruiters and applicants.

MedUSched Live Demo 2022

Healthcare, Student Scheduling, Medical Education

In my role as a UI/UX Designer for the MedUSched project, I pioneered the creation of two pivotal web applications. For students, I developed an intuitive scheduling platform, simplifying the process of electives selection within affiliated hospitals. Additionally, I crafted a seamless solution for hospitals, enabling them to post new elective opportunities and efficiently manage student requests. Through my innovative design approach, I bridged the gap between medical students and hospitals, transforming a complex scheduling process into a user-friendly, efficient experience. MedUSched now stands as a testament to my expertise in creating impactful solutions within the healthcare education sector.

Dripgym
